This is the first vet game that I really enjoyed, taking the journey with Amy is really fun and exciting. I love all the characters, specifically Newton, he really makes the story better. I enjoyed getting all the achievements and building up the vet clinic to it's former glory, I love how the story relates to in real life to follow your dreams and achieving it. The story is rich and really fun to care for all the animals, but don't forget that pink puppy too. Recommended indeed!! Cute game, cute stories. You really understand how the characters are feeling and whatnot. Great soundtrack, kinda hard to find the mice if you don't have your volume up to a certain level lol. Just my opinion though.

. While not my favourite of the GameHouse roster, I did enjoy playing Pet Rescue 101. The gameplay was significantly slower than the Allison Heart games, so there were a few times I felt impatient with the "customer thinking" phase. After playing games requiring more strategic thinking on a time limit, Pet Rescue wasn't as challenging. As usual, I liked the overall story but found most of the characters to be stereotype cutouts and not very appealing. Amy, especially, didn't have a lot of substance and I'm disappointed there wasn't much more to her character other than surface dialogue.

I am still giving it a recommendation to play, however, if you enjoy the GameHouse style of task management.. Another one of the lovely series from our favorite GameHouse Original Stories! <3 I love how this series reflect on most of the concept on how most people usually sees animals these days; especially mostly in the modern societies - like some sees animals as possessions and accessories while some just sees them as tool to make money. It is also a beautiful adventure with Amy throughout the whole game and accompany her in learning from mistakes; trial and error in life.

Overall, I love the mini games and the soundtracks - especially their main song; it is so beautiful and free. If you have play all other GH Original Stories Games, you definitely know you should be getting this as well! Absolutely enjoyable and worth of the time to play. Thumb up for GHOS and Nitreal.. I've always loved these games, especially when theres a storyline to them. they're easygoing and not that hard to do. onto the next one now lol.. Definitely enjoyed this - it's not as intense as Heart's Medicine, so if you're looking for a sweet, casual time management game this is a good choice.. I've always loved GameHouse's time management games. The story feels the same as the other games, but it's still a lot of fun. I didn't find the pets as cute as they ought to be, but taking care of them in different departments made the game really interesting.. Love!! I enjoyed the story as well as the gameplay. A good buy if you are looking for a casual game!!
